

"FirstDraft Seeking Submissions." The G 16 September 1992: 9.

Firstdraft seeking submissions

Each year the Grossmont College Firstdraft Editing class puts together a compilation of written manuscripts for publication in the summer. Any current or former student of Grossmont or Cuyamaca College is invited to submit manuscripts in the following categories:

Short stories — maximum 3,000 words (limit 3 stories);

Sketches, essays, plays — maximum 300 words;

Poetry, serious or light verse — 50 lines maximum (limit 10 poems):

The deadline for submission is October 30, 1992. The material submitted is critiqued by the Firstdraft class, and is then considered for publication. The class edits and typesets the manuscripts, which are then sent to the campus print shop where they take on the tedious process of printing the magazine. Submissions should be made to a current Grossmont or Cuyamaca College instructor.