Charlene was one of the original faculty when the college first opened in 1961. She retired from the English Department at Grossmont College more than a decade ago.

Charline Lamons Update

Ray Resler flew to Charline Lamon's home town, Okmulgee, Oklahoma (see Grapevine, September 1999) the weekend before Thanksgiving and installed a webTV unit on the color TV in her room at the convalescent home where she's staying. Ray provided the unit along with a wireless keyboard so that Charline, whose mobility is very limited, could send and receive e-mail as well as surf the internet. Charline's a novice in e-communication but she'd probably appreciate corresponding with fellow retirees who use e-mail. Her e-mail address is charlinel@webtv.net
