

EARTH SCIENCES DEPT. SPRING 2015 FLEX WEEK FIELD TRIP:

“Imagine a World without Borax”

Baby Jeff Lehman in Korean War-era Borax ad

HIGHLIGHTS: Rio Tinto borax mine—largest source of borax in the world! And much, much more!

DATES: 2 days/1 night—Depart from Grossmont College Thursday January 22 early morning
(NOTE: Precise departure time will be announced prior to Flex Week.)

Return to Grossmont College 5:00 pm-ish, Friday, January 23

LODGING: Spend the night in beautiful Barstow—hometown of Raquel Beezley, 2008 Miss California USA—on Route 66, in the Route 66 motel.

COSTS: $135.00 - Transportation, lodging, snacks, and all admissions included in costs

FLEX CREDIT: 16 hours of approved professional development credit

CONTACT: RSVP Jeff Lehman (jeff.lehman@gcccd.edu) ASAP as space is limited

Questions: Jeff Lehman (619) 644-7341 or Tim Cliffe (619)-962-1278 (cell)

NOTE: THIS TRIP IS OPEN TO ALL INTERESTED FACULTY AND STAFF